Child Care in
Jefferson County

In most parts of Washington, the number of child care providers declined from 2008-2013, becoming more stable from 2014-2020 although still in decline at a lesser rate. Capacity for children declined from 2008-2013, however due to more family child care closures than center-based care, capacity has risen from 2014-2019. Since the pandemic there has been a net loss of nearly 150 providers and around 1,500 slots. This decline has disproportionately impacted communities based on location. In the net loss of providers, nearly 40% are center-based, representing 60% of the capacity lost.

In Jefferson County, the number of child care providers has increased from 7 with capacity for 153 children in 2017, to 9 providers with capacity for 273 children in December of 2021.*

Since 1989, our regional member programs and statewide Family Center have enhanced the quality of child care and helped families by:
